Week 12 Instructions: English

June 22 – June 26

Hello Grade 7!

Well, we've made it! We're here at the last week of school. You should be very proud of the way you adapted to the challenges of online learning and continued to do your best. I look forward to seeing all of you in the halls in September.

This week's Mustard activity will help me to plan for next year's grade 7 English classes so thank you in advance for your help.

For the final time, I've broken down this week's activities into the Ketchup, (The background or catch up work you'll need to do or something leftover from last week.) Mustard (The must do work for the week.) and Pickle (You can pick an extra item or more if you have time.) Remember to read for 30 minutes everyday! Check out the virtual library with Mrs. Desrochers!

Discuss News Sources

Think about what you learned last week about evaluating news sources. Consider news sources that you use regularly. Choose one and write a brief post defending it as a good source or admitting it is not a good source of news. Respond to posts from other classmates (remember you may disagree respectfully).

Post your comments in the Ketchup post.

Plus, Minus, Interesting

Think about your experience in English class this year: the materials in the room, where you were seated, how we decided things together, partners you worked with, groups you worked with, books you read, activities we did together, videos we viewed and discussed, anything that happened.

Choose a Plus, Minus, and Interesting to share. The Plus should be something that worked well for you, that I should keep the same for next year. The Minus should be something that didn't work as well, something I could leave out or change next year. The Interesting should be something I can think about including or trying or something that surprised you in a good way. Remember to be kind and polite in your post and in your responses to the posts of your classmates. Post your comments in the Mustard post.
